Words taken from prophecies given in Maranatha 1989 - 2004

Pray

the breath of God upon this world this world into seeing that I may be known that people's minds and hearts may be turned to God that my waters will inundate the desiccated hearts and spirits of the people of this nation that I may advance the time of my coming again to renew people's lives that the stone of men's hearts may be moved that the rock may be moulded into shapes of God's hand for the rock to be broken and to be made into good soil for my blood to cover the people and places you address in my name to bind the beast

to me as one who loves you to know how I would have you pray to distinguish my voice from the voices of falsehood to know the word I speak to know the word of God to know me who am the Word to know my new work in you and through you to know my fruit

at my cross and meet me as if you believe that I exist, and you will find that I do as if you believe that I am real, and you will find that I AM that your moment may be my moment that you may now become the person I am recreating you to be my life into your life from the first moment until the last moment and beyond for the sweetening of the water that feeds your roots for your fear to be healed with command since you pray with my authority your oppressors under my authority for my gifts in faith constantly always
